VOL LIX: NO. 27. REDWOOD CITY ,CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1919 ESTABLISHED 1859

TWO LOCAL LADIES HAD CLOSE CALL FROM BEING IN THE RAILROAD WRECK LAST SUNDAY

Mrs. Mary Winter and her sister, Mrs. Annie Bovyer came within an ace of being on the ill-fated train that was wrecked at or near King City on Sunday evening last. The young women had attended the Women's Relief Corps convention at Columbus, Ohio, and on their return to California stopped off at Santa Barbara. There they met their cousin, Mrs. Richard Fahy and her young daughter Naomi. The party, after a day of sight-seeing sought the Southern Pacific depot to entrain for home. There they were told that only two seats in the chair car were available on the incoming train. These were taken by Mrs. Fahy and her daughter Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Bovyer secured accommodations on the second section due in ten minutes after the first had passed.

When nearing King City they learned of the wreck. They hastened to the scene of the accident and an appaling sight met their gaze. Women and children were calling for assistance. Mrs. Fahy and her daughter were taken out of the dining car through the window. Both were severely injured. The girl was badly cut about the forehead and face. Her mother suffered severe bruises about the neck and shoulders. Next morning Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Bovyer accompanied them to a hospital in San Francisco. The little girl may be disfigured for life.

The train was going at a high rate of speed and turning a curve in the road near King City the engine jumped the track and the three front cars were derailed and piled upon each other. The engineer and fireman were killed and about forty of the passengers severely injured.

Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Bovyer are thanking their lucky stars that they escaped the wreck.

The Fahys are well-known in Redwood City, having resided here at one time.

CELEBRATION AT PORTOLA WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

The celebration of the founding of the first church in San Mateo county and the welcoming the first pastor to Portola, Father George Lacombe, at Portola last Sunday was a success. High mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock. The priests in the sanctuary were, Father H. Ayrinhac, S. S., Rev. M. 'l Archipoetoe Housilian of Verdun, France, Rev. John Smyth and Father London. Among the San Franciscans present were, Mayor and Mrs. James Rolph, Joseph Tynan and wife, Dr. John Galloway, the Misses Mary and Katherine O'Dea Dr. C. D. McGettigan, Noel Sullivan, Andrew Carrigan, Francis J. C. Sullivan, J. J. Barrett, J. A. Donohoe, Jr., and wife Mattie and Luke Carroll.

Father W. P. Sullivan delivered a very able sermon. He voiced the joy and satisfaction of the people of Portola parish in welcoming the first resident pastor hitherto a mission attached to another church:

Portola now has its own parish and its own pastor. He recalled how a few years ago Father Lacombe began the first work of giving to the beautiful Portola valley a church edifice that would be worthy of it and how admirably he succeeded, thanks to his zeal, youthful energy and force of character and pleasing personality and now after a year spent in the cause of God and service of his country in the path of peace and the pursuits of war he comes back to continue the work he so happily began. Father Sullivan went on to remind his listeners that while the present church at Portola is comparatively new and while its first resident pastor had but made his advent yet the parish has a history that as things go in California extends back into a remote past, it goes back to the days of the old St. Dennis church, established in 1853, through the generosity of Dennis Martin, a pioneer, at that time it was the only church between the City of St. Francis and the Mission of Santa Clara. The names of Father Motta and Picardi of the Franciscan order and Father Sanchez and Father Dempsey and Bowman of San Mateo are recalled. Though nothing remains of that old church sure the name and memory and a few furnishings, yet the labor of those early apostles live after them and held in grateful remembrance He spoke of the pity it is that so much connected with the early religious history of California has allowed to decay and be destroyed by the ravages of time and doings of men. The history of St. Dennis recalls the history of the missions of an earlier period, so prosperous and accomplishing and wonderful work for the civilization of the Indians of their time, but owing to the controversies over the mission system they disappeared and the missions themselves were allowed to crumble to dust.

Father Sullivan concluded by reminding them that the new pastor comes to them commissioned by the Most Revered Archbishop as the representative of the ages, he comes to teach them to teach the truths that the church received from Christ himself and she has continued to teach throughout the centuries.

The annual bazaar for the benefit of Mount Carmel church opened under most favorable auspices in the Alhambra theatre Thursday night. The Redwood City band regaled the big crowd with sweet music. An attractive program was rendered by the convent children who received hearty applause for their splendid efforts. They showed the result of their many rehearsals. The bazaar will go this evening and conclude on Monday night. The pioneer table presided over by Mrs. J. Kearse is doing a big business. This afternoon from 1 o'clock until 5 a food sale of home-made pies, cakes, etc., will take place at the theatre. Come and get your supply for your Sunday dinner.

Fred Chavis arrived home on Monday from overseas duty. He was in the service for nearly two years. Chavis was in five engagements and came out without a scratch. Young Chavis trained at Camp Lewis. He is glad to get back to Redwood City. He is about the last of the Redwood boys who was engaged in the war to return.

Richard J. Shields, young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Shields, writes to his parents from Europe. The young man is an engineer on a steamer that left here some weeks ago. He writes from Gibraltar. He saw the celebrated rock, about which so much has been written and sends a picture of the massive stont formation. On the day that he indited the letter he started for Fiume where fighting is now going on between the various factions claiming that town. Young Shields will not be home for some time. He visited all the Mediterranean ports before returning.

Horticultural Commissioner H. E Woodworth is going to enforce the fruit and vegetable standardization law compelling all producers to make an honest pack of their products. It has been learned that the Japanese tomato growers at Atherton are placing small fruit at the bottom of their boxes and large ones at the top and shipping them to San Francisco. Mr. Woodworth personally has watched the packing and saw that no discrimination was made.

Manuel Alves and Miss Annie Hoult of Redwood City were married in San Francisco September 23rd.

Messrs. Favorite and Babcock have taken over the Hotel Sequoia restaurant and grill and are now open for business. They have thoroughly renovated the entire place, making it attractive and home-like. The proprietors are in a position to give the public a splendid service at popular prices. Mr. Favorite is from San Diego having recently bought a beautiful home in Redwood Highlands and has moved his interesting family here. Mr. Babcock is from Santa Cruz. Both gentlemen are experienced restauranteurs and are here to stay.

Early next week a post of American Legion will be organized in Redwood City to give an opportunity for those who served in the late war to join. San Mateo County Post No. 1 has been organized at Burlingame with a large membership from San Mateo, Hillsborough and Burlingame. It is a joint post taking in the three cities. As over 250 young men from here participated in the war the contemplated post will be a large and influential one. It will be organized early in the week to permit the post to elect delegates to the first state convention in San rancisco which will convene on Thursday and continue for three days.

Assistant District Attorney Ray Lyon has leased the premises recently vacated by Professor Young on Santa Cruz avenue, Menlo Park, near Campo Bello and will move there in about two weeks. His mother will remove from Sacramento and will occupy the beautiful home with her son.

H. W. Schaberg and H. C. Tuchsen, the San Mateo County inheritance tax appraisers, will leave today for Los Angeles to attend the convention of inheritance tax appraisers of the state. They will meet on Monday and continue in session for three days. This will be the first gathering of that body in three years.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS SATURDAY OCT. 11

Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud, has called the annual meeting of the school trustees for Saturday, October 11 in the superior court room at the court house. Sam Cohn, the statistician in the office of the State Superintendent of Schools at Sacramento, will speak on "Compulsory Attendance and Part Time Laws," and on the general census to be taken in November next. MRS. NASH WAS HONORED AT THE JOHNSON MEETING

County Clerk Mrs. Jos. H. Nash acted as one of the vice-presidents of the big Johnson meeting in the Coliseum in San Francisco last Wednesday evening. Over 16,000 people crammed the large hall eager to hear the senator and listen to his message. More than 6000 persons failed to gain admittance to the hall. Hiram W. Johnson was enthusiastically received and his every word was loudly applauded.

No man ever received such an ovation by a San Francisco audience. This demonstrates his popularity and shows that the people believe in his doctrine and applaud his opposition to the League of Nations. The Senator is sincere in his opposition to the covenant and no one can question his loyalty nor his Americanism. Everywhere he goes in the United States he is cheered to the echo for his outspoken ideas and forceful speeches against the League of Nations.

Mrs. Nash was the only vice-president from San Mateo county. She says she will always remember the tremendous ovation given Mr. Johnson. It was many minutes before he was able to speak so deafening was the applause.

CAPTAIN AND MRS. MACKENZIE ARRIVE HERE WEDNESDAY

Captain Norman A. Mackenzie and his pretty bride of a few months, arrived here on Wednesday to spend some time with the parents of the captain. He was discharged from the service recently at Camp Custer, Michigan. After his graduation from the dental department of the University of California in 1917 he offered his services to the government and was at once made a lieutenant and sent to Camp Kearney to serve with the dental corps. From there he was sent east practicing his profession in a number of camps. He was unable to get over the waters to the front. He would have liked to be there with many of his companions who were in the thickest of the fight. The captain on last June married a beautiful and winsome young lady of Battle Creek, Michigan. Mr. Mackenzie will take a vacation before locating. He has two places in view and within a short time will decide upon which will be preferable. The firemen did splendid work, however and succeeded in getting the fire under control before it reached the front of the structure. The damage to the house and the furniture will amount to about $500. The building is owned by D. P. Flynn, county assessor. The origin of the fire is unknown.

TELEPHONE COMPANY GRANTED THREE YEARS TIME TO REMOVE POLES FROM THE MAIN STREETS

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company have been given three years by the board of town trustees to remove their poles from the main streets of Redwood City. Representatives of the company met in conference with the trustees Monday night to thrash the matter out and it was pointed out to the satisfacion of the board that it would require fully three years time to remove the poles and install an underground wire system. The company at first asked for five years, but the trustees refused to grant this much time and finally compromised on the three years.

The representatives Monday night told the trustees that the cost of removing the poles and installing the underground system will be close to $40,000. The poles to be removed are those on Broadway and Main street, from the State highway to the Main street railroad crossing.

The meeting Monday night and the agreement entered into by the telephone company is the result of the action taken by the trustees several months ago when they ordered the telephone company to remove the poles from the main streets of the city, following the raise of the toll rates between Redwood, Menlo Park and Palo Alto.

The settlement of the telephone situation without any litigation is considered a big victory for Redwood, as it was thought at first that the company would hesitate in complying with the request of the trustees and that it would be necessary to take the matter into the courts. The trustees are well pleased with the outcome of the conference. While the three years granted the company to remove the poles from the streets may seem a long time, it will require nearly that long, they say, for the city to make provisions for its own wires that are now stretched on the poles of the telephone company.

POLITICAL MAP SHOWS REPUBLICAN POSITION

The Republican Woman's National Executive Committee has sent out a political map of the United States, accompanied by an argument to show that the Republicans have been the real friends of suffrage, in deeds, as well as words. Only seven states classed as Democratic, and inclusive of Utah and Missouri which will be protested by Republicans generally, give women presidential suffrage. They are Oklahoma, Tennessee, Montana, Nevada, Arizona, Utah and Missouri. The political complexion is determined by the total vote for congressmen in the 1918 election. These seven states have fifty-four electorial votes. There are twenty Republican states having full or presidential suffrage, these states having 242 electorial votes. There are nine Republican states denying woman suffrage, with 100 electorial votes. There are ten Democratic states without woman suffrage, with 106 electorial votes. Two Democratic states have primary suffrage, with twenty-nine electorial votes.

The committee takes up the history of the fight for suffrage, beginning with the first speech for suffrage ever made in Congress, by Senator Aaron A. Sargent, a Republican from California and carrying it down to the submission of the amendment, within two weeks after the return of Republican control, in the present Congress. In the final contest there was a decided preponderance of Republican support over the Democratic, both in the House and Senate. But this vote is not nearly so significant of the party attitude as the alignment of the states. The only state which has been consistently Democratic that has adopted woman suffrage is Oklahoma, and it repeatedly defeated it after states to the north and west of it had adopted it.

The pioneer suffrage states were Republican and they became so without pressure from Washington. Not until 1916 had the political importance of the subject become so formidable that the major parties gave heed. Both platforms meant nothing, "leaving the problem to the states," but Mr. Hughes repudiated the platform straddled and came out squarely for federal amendment.

While women should vote on the merits of issues, as they probably will, many who are undecided as to party affiliations will give heed to the general type of mind of Republicans, as expressed without duress or hope of reward.

IRELAND AND THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

President Wilson professes to believe that the establishment of the League of Nations opens the way for determination of the question of Irish freedom. He declares that under Article XI any question affecting the peace of the world may be brought to the attention of the league of nations. At the same time we are told that domestic questions do not come within the purview of the league of nations. In the opinion of the British government which, to the exclusion of Ireland, is to be represented in the league of nations, the Irish question is very much a domestic question. How, then, is the matter to come before the league? If, in the face of the objections of the British government, this is a matter the league may take up for decision, then the doctrine of secession is revived in the United States, for California or Louisiana, possessed of far more local autonomy than Ireland, might put up to the league for decision the question of whether or not they may withdraw from the United States. How would that little matter have been decided in the sixties? How would it be decided now? Some of the covenants have a hard time escaping from the conclusions of their own logic.

THE GRAND ARMY REMAINS 100 PER CENT AMERICAN

Others may wander far after strange political gods, stray into the bypaths of eerie creeds and fall into the morass of fallacious "isms," but not the Grand Army of the Republic. The members of this brave old organization fought to preserve the union and it is to the union that they owe their allegiance first, last and all the time. They do not owe it to any foreign alliances not to any organization whose object is to use the United States of America with which to pull chestnuts out of the fire for Europe's devouring.

And so it was not surprising that a few days ago at the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in Columbus, Ohio, these men rallied once again to the defense of the union as they did more than fifty years ago, and that although now they may be too old to shoulder their muskets and march forth to battle as once they did, still they are able to present their sentiments of loyalty and devotion to the flag with such vigor as to make an impression upon the entire nation.

Their action in passing resolutions against the proposed league of nations was not political ,they said, but was taken that they might go on record once more as being of the belief in the principle for which they fought in an earlier day—the principle of one hundred per cent Americanism.

The resolution declares against entangling alliances and says quite truly and quite "Americanly" that this nation is not concerned "with the initial policies of Europe, Asia or Africa." And these veterans further declare against the surrender of American independence and sovereignty.

And the sentiment of the older soldiers is echoed and re-echoed by the soldiers of the later war who do not wish now that the victory for human liberty has been on, to cross the seas again to fight to preserve the territorial integrity and political independence of strange states with which this nation is little concerned and has little in common.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION IS URGED ANEW

The vigilance and energy with which V. S. McClatchy of Sacramento is fighting the Japanese invasion of the Pacific coast entitle him no end of obligation from the true blooded Americans who desire to keep their country, the white man's country and who abhor the idea of Orientalization of the United States. The facts which McClatchy and Miller Freeman of Seattle have presented to the house immigration committee at Washington in pressing legislation to exclude the Japanese are terrifying to the American mind. They assert that during the war the Japanese found the door to the United States wide open, and that their colonization at that time proceeded so quietly and on such broad scale that returning soldiers are finding the door of opportunity closed to them by this alien race.

Pacific coast people, Californians, residents of the Santa Clara valley, know the Japanese. The crafty Orientals are operating at our very doors. Unless we arouse ourselves and give backing to this Japanese exclusion movement now, we too may wake only to find that the Japanese have closed our own doors to ourselves.

Freeman tells what has happened in this way in Seattle. He says:

"Forty-seven per cent of the Seattle hotels are Japanese owned, as are 25 per cent of the groceries, and practically all of the best farming land near Seattle. The Seattle city market is under Japanese control; laundries are being rapidly absorbed, and more theatres are being bought.

"That is not all," he added, "but it is typical of conditions in all lines of business."

No community wants the experience of Seattle to be reproduced. But unless action is taken now, that is bound to happen. The Japanese are declared by these investigators of the subject to be issuing passports to their subjects under any head but labor. McClatchy's figure is 10,000 Japanese arriving on this coast per year, including huge numbers of women brought "for breeding purposes," since the American-born children of the alien Japanese are entitled to own property here.

Legislation more stringent than any ever passed is being urged. Absolute exclusion of the Japanese because of their economic standards would not be a policy incomprehensible to Japan since it it the policy pursued by the Japanese in their own country against the Chinese and the Koreans.

We know the situation, the necessity for some effective legislation which will prevent the Orientalization of our country while prevention is possible. What are we going to do about it?—Palo Alto Times.

We, here in America, hold in our hands the hope of the world, the fate of the coming years: and shame and disgrace will be ours if in our eyes the light of high resolve is dimmed, if we trail in the dust the golden hopes of men.

FAREWELL SERMON PREACHED BY REV. F. A. BROWN

Last Sunday the Rev. Francis A. Brown held his last services in St. Peter's Episcopal church.

He received a call some weeks since from Gonzales, Texas, and left on Monday afternoon for his new field of labor.

During the two years of residence of the Reverend and Mrs. Brown in Redwood City, they have endeared themselves to many people, and the large congregations of Sunday last, were testimonials of the high esteem with which they have been held in this community.

At the Sunday morning service, the members of his congregation felt called upon to make some expressions, touching his closing rectorship, and they presented him with a substantial present in the shape of several twenty dollar gold pieces as a fitting California bood-bye. The heartfelt feelings of the people were very evident as the parting words were expressed and St. Peter's church will greatly miss what the Gonzales people wil surely gain in this transfer of Rev. Mr. Brown to Texas.

The services will be continued and be as heretofore—Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The usual Thursday evening services will also continue, to all of which the general public is very cordially invited.

Palo Alto Men Enter New Field

R. H. Malone and L. R. Lautterstein, who established The Regent in Palo Alto in 1909, have just purchased an interest in the Electrical Products corporation of 941 W. 16th street Los Angeles, and will embark at once upon their new enterprise. Lautterstein has been in the south for several months and Malone left Palo Alto yesterday. The Regent which has been owned by Roos Bros. of San Francisco since August 1918, will continue as a branch of that company under the management of C. F. D'Arcy.

Within two weeks the Electrical Products corporation, of which Malone and Lautterstein are now a part, will begin the erection, on a site near the present location, of a $50,000 factory. This will be completed for installation by the first of the years. The corporation now employs about fifty men, including designers and expert mechanicians, and with increased facilities will increase the number. The Palo Alto men hope that their friends here will remember the address of the factory and that some of the pleasant relationships established here may be continued in the new field.

Since its establishment in 1909, The Regent has rapidly come to hold a place among the local stores which is unique. Students and Palo Alto people have felt that the store was a friendly place where they would receive a square deal in a business way, and where they could meet to talk over the election or the game. It has been especially a Stanford man's store and is one of the first places in town to which the returning student or alumni goes.

Both Malone and Latterstein took a leading part in the business and civic life of Palo Alto. Since the departure of the latter last fall Malone has "carried on" alone, and has won a place for himself which will be hard to fill. Both will retain property interests in Palo Alto and intend to keep in touch. Malone expresses keen regret in leaving Palo Alto, where he has established the warmest friendships ,both business and social, and says he hopes he may some day come to Palo Alto to live. Those who know him here echo his wish.

The store here will continue under the management of Roos Bros. and will follow the traditions which have made The Regent famous. As one of the chain of Roos Bros' stores, it will be assured of high standards and up-to-date features. Improvements and enlargements of the store building to the amount of $10,000 are among the plans of the owners for the immediate future.

Mrs. George Fife and Doctor and Mrs. Shortlidge and their attractive children have closed their home at Atherton for the winter and have taken apartments at San Francisco.

Judge Daniel Deasy, who with his attractive family, maintain a home at Atherton, is a candidate for re-election as superior judge in San Francisco. There is hardly and doubt of his return to the bench for he is one of the ablest judges in San Francisco and has a host of friends working for him. A great number of commuters living in this county will vote at the city eletcion in November and these are earnestly solicited to cast their vote for Judge Deasy who has summered with us and will winter with us.

The number of patients at the government's public health service hospital at Camp Fremont steadily increases. About thirty patients arrived in the past week, bringing the number of charges there up to the 300 mark. The hospital has a force of 120 patients, nine doctors, and 25 nurses. The patients are drawn chiefly from the army, although the navy and the merchant marine also has a fair quota, a number from the latter being aged sea captains.

In attempting to avoid a collision with a child riding a bicycle, Mrs. Albert Schwabacher, Menlo Park society matron, drove her automobile against a telephone pole on the state highway here Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Schwabacher was thrown out of the machine, her right leg was fractured, and she was also cut and bruised about the head. She was taken to the Red Cross hospital.

Mrs. Schwabacher was returning to her home at Menlo Park from the Beresford Country Club when 9-year-old Martha Muhlman, riding a bicycle, steered into the path of the automobile. Mrs. Schwabacher swerved quickly, the bumper brushing against the bicycle and causing the child to be hurled to the ground. The girl was but slightly bruised.

The housing problem of Palo Alto continues to be a source of worriment to Stanford students. All available places have been taken in and about the campus and the college town. Hundreds will have to be housed in Menlo Park this semester. There are no accommodations at Palo Alto or Mayfield for these students. Over 2000 pupils have registered at the University this year.

The gardener at the Miss Noel place on emptying a metal receptacle on the lawn on Wednesday tossed out a fine specimen of an opposum. The animal was captured easily and is now in possession of the gardener. The woods hereabouts are said to be full of them. The appearance of the opposum is said to be a sure sign of a cold and wet winter. They seek the low lands for warmth and shelter.

W. I. Treiger, second vice-president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, will visit the local parlor next Thursday evening. A banquet will be enjoyed after the meeting.

Runnymede is soon to incorporate and become a municipality. This growing section is going ahead by leaps and bounds and without doubt is the most prosperous place in the county. The people are anxious to have their own home government. A vote on the question is to be taken very soon.

The business men and others of Menlo Park are anxious to secure the trade of the base hospital. It rightly belongs here but it now goes to Palo Alto. It is suggested that if that piece of road from the Coleman mansion to the hospital grounds were turnpiked, it would divert much of the travel here as it would be nearer. There is a good thoroughfare leading from the Ringwood road to the Coleman house and if continued it would be a big accommodation to the hospital and certainly would divert the travel this way. There is only 300 yards of a stretch and could be repaired for a small sum and there would be big results to the townspeople. There are over 300 patients at the institution and many hundred employes. Their trade would be worth something to local business men. By all means let us have the road in question repaired.

John C. Cornwall, the aged engineer, passed away in San Francisco during the week at the age of 87 years. He was one of the first engineers of the coast division of the Southern Pacific company. He was an intimate friend of Leland Stanford. He was the first engineer to haul an engine out of Sacramento in the early sixties. When Menlo Park became a terminus for the evening trains in the eighties, Cornwall was one of the engineers and he became well-known here. After his retirement from the railroad and he became an agent for a certain brand of toilet soap and traveled through the country selling the article and having friends throughout the state found ready sale for the toilet article. This was a means of his livelihood in his declining years. He is well- remembered here.

Mr. Rosenfeld, who recently purchased ten acres of land on Santa Cruz avenue, has moved from Omaha, Nebraska, and has leased the Headly house. He is drifting a well on the property preparatory to planting the land to peonies, an herbaceous plant which produces a flower of great commercial value. Mr. Rosenfeld has $20,000 worth of the seed which he will bring from Omaha to plant here. He says that the climate and soil is peculiarly adapted for the successful production of the flower here. His father, one of the wealthy florists of Omaha, is about to retire and has turned over his peony seed farm to his son. This new industry should be encouraging to the residents of this community.

The Moose club this week sold its beautiful and costly furniture located in the Menlo Park Hotel to San Francisco parties. No lodge in the peninsula had more costly furniture and fixtures. The Moose Society has decided to abandon the lodge here. Members will be transferred to other branch societies.

The Doctor Wilson place at Atherton occupied all summer by Mr. and Mrs. Latham McMullen, has been sold to a rich party in San Francisco. It is a very attractive home.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Eyre and Miss Elena Eyre, who have been summering, as usual, at their country place in Menlo Park, will return soon to spend the winter in San Francisco.

George Nunn returned on Tuesday from a visit to his aged mother in Saskatchewan, Canada. Mr. Nunn spent a month in that delightful country and enjoyed his trip. He had not seen his mother in 26 years. She was overjoyed in meeting her son. Mr. Nunn says he would sooner spend one month in Menlo Park than the remainder of his life in the northern country.

Forty cars of food stuff arrived at Camp Fremont during the week. It was stored in the warehouses and later may be shipped to the Presidio where every available warehouse is filled at present.

Ray Hara arrived home on Tuesday from overseas after spending fifteen months at the front. After spending some time at Los Angeles he proceeded to France. He was in the front line trenches when the armistice was signed. Afterwards he spent some time in Goblenz.

Walter Graham, chauffeur for Walter H. Linforth, has returned from France where he spent two years with the army as a truck driver.

W. J. Murray, owner of the Menlo Park garage, has acquired the Christian Science camp welfare building at Fremont, and is moving the Menlo Park police station to the property.
